M. E. INSTITUTE CLOSSES

With Brilliant Lecture—Meeting One of the Most Successful Ever Held

The institute closed last night with a most glorious climax.

For some unexplainable reason the lecturer with his lantern and slides failed to reach the city. As the announcement was made to the audience there was a cloud of disappointment that settled and sat upon the faces of the audience.

Dr. Morris was introduced to the audience and that cloud was soon dispelled by the inner light of rapt attention that riveted the interest upon the scenes that passed before us. As the lecturer with his pictures failed to appear, Dr. Morris announced that he would show to us some of the pictures that for years had been hanging upon the walls of his memory. With words as delicate tints and glorious hues and with the imagination as the canvass, he stood and for one hour transferred a part of his splendid gallery to all those whose imagination was sensitive enough to receive it. With the art of a master he led us from place to place till distances were lost and discomforts were forgotten. He stood with us at the Niagara Falls; we watched it plunge from the Canadian side and walked around and felt its spray and heard its roar from the American shore. He showed us clouds which in their twisted shapes made gigantic forms that were equal to titanic tasks. We climbed the rugged sides of Mt. Vesuvius and watched the molten river flow from a steh in its heart; we stood at its crater and for one brief minute looked down and in and saw a hundred baby volcanoes spit and sputter preparing for a mighty roar and rumble that should soon make the earth about, to tremble and the seas to surge. We stood in the Cathedral at Antwerp and looked upon the immortal masterpieces of Rubens; as we beheld the "Crucifixion" and the "Descent from the Cross," "our hearts burned within us." We sailed along on the placid bay and saw the eliver of the moon playing upon the deep; and dipped our hands in the phosphorescent waters that lay about us. We stood upon the shore on a hot summer afternoon and beheld the mirage that inverted the ships on the sea, masts touching masts as they were perfectly hanged by the illusion. We walked through the great gallery at Louvre and stopped long enough to epe the great picture of "The Flood"—one antediluvian clinging with one hand to a breking limb of a lone tree with the deluge lapping at his feet and his whole family clinging about him and crying for rescue. We stemmed upon the bosom of the deep at sixteen knots the hour with porpoise skimming behind us, in front of us and beside us like the fabled dolphins. We walked the deck as we passed over the unmarked spot where a great passenger steamer had recently gone down with its cargo of human life; and we caught our breath as we beheld on the waves floating face upwards, one ghastly evidence that the disaster had occurred. We saw icebergs like floating mountains slowly moving toward the waters of the South soon to melt down into the sea. We walked along the "Appian Way" and our feet touched the same flagging that had been pressed by the feet of the Apostle Paul. We halted for a moment at the Three Taverns and stood in silence at the place where Paul was supposed to have died at the hands of the executioner. We looked into the sacred circle of a home, we saw two children, a boy and a girl, playing about the knees of a mother with no marks of care upon her face nor lines of age upon her brow; but so rapidly moves the pictures before us that now we see a woman returning from a foreign field and the son from a proaching tour, and the mother's form has bent, the brow is wrinkled and the cheeks no longer rotund; the eyes are now dimming and we witness the triumphant death scene of the mother of the lecturer. At the midnight hour we walk the deck of the ship with its Captain on the North side of Scotland and are waiting for the dying of today and the birth of tomorrow; just as the dying rays of today seem to depart, we see the light of tomorrow tinting the Eastern sky until in the zenith above us the rays of two days mingle and there is no night there. Thus when we look for the evening star at the close of life and expect our career to go out in the night, and the dark, the rays of two days shall mingled above us and there shall be no night, there for "unto him that overcometh will I give the Morning Star."

A committee brought in a set of resolutions that expressed thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the Institute. The house was comfortably filled and everyone went away feeling that it was "good to have been there." With the benediction by Dr. Walsh, closed one of the most successful Institutes ever held in the bonnde of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

HON. AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON was born in Maysville in 1846, and Hon. WILLIAM H. COX was born in Maysville in 1856. The nomination of two native sons for the important positions of Governor and Lieutenant Governor is an honor of which any city should feel proud; and what is more both gentlemen are of unsullied character, and that is the best of all.

AN era of good feeling between the railroads and the public, with consequent beneficent effort upon the material welfare of the U. S., is predicted by MARTIN A. KNAPP, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The "era of good feeling" was no doubt hastened by the acts of 19 Legislatures passing 2-cent fare bills. When 27 other Legislatures adopt the same measure and the 2-cent fare becomes universal, the era of good feeling between the railways and the common people will be real pathetic and affecting.

We had the editor of a weekly paper with us on part of the journey across North Dakota by team, and at one village hotel the landlord found out what an honored guest he had and refused to charge him any bill. The editor returned his thanks and we were about ready to leave when the landlord beckoned him aside and said:

"Stranger, being an editor, you can do anything. I don't like running a hotel and I wish you'd fix it up for me to go to the legislature."

"Yes," was the reply.

"And my son Bill wants to be elected sheriff of this county."

"And my son Tom wants to be a schoolmaster."

"Yes?"

"And I've got a brother-in-law who wants an easy job in Washington, it's got to be an easy job, as he has a lame back."

"Anything more?" asked the editor.

"I've got a cousin Joe who'd like to go down to Panama, and a nephew who wants to get into a bank, and if you don't mind being put to a little trouble and would say that I am a widower and wanted to marry again, I'd take it as a great favor."

Echoes From Louisville Convention.

Hon. Augustus Edgar Willson, Republican nominee for Governor of Kentucky, wrote the Editor some time ago—

"I was born in Maysville in 1846, and although my father moved to Covington when I was a child, this half makes me believe I am still remembered in Maysville; though not remembered still while there—for I was off tender years and probably never still there. I probably began at Maysville to train my vocal outfit for campaigns."

Mr. Willson is a brilliant lawyer, wit and clinician, and his campaign will be waged along the lines of a political educational tour, which will entertain and enlighten the public upon matter of vast interest to the state.

Hon. William Houston Cox, Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor, was born in Maysville, October 22d, 1856.

He is a son of the late George Cox, a pioneer merchant, has served several times as Mayor of Maysville and is one of the wealthiest property owners of the county. He is a thirty-second-degree Mason, the Grand Lodge representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a State Senator in the present Legislature from the Thirty-first District.

His prominence as a churchman is attested by his appointment on the Cathedral Chapter of the Diocese of Lexington under Bishop Burton. His marked business ability, integrity of character and beautiful home life all conspire to emphasize his popularity throughout the state.

Louisville Herald.

Senator Cox is worthy, in all respects, the high place on the ticket by practically unanimous consent assigned him. Four years hence his will, very probably, be the first place. A high-class American citizen and a devoted Republican, the Hon. W. H. Cox has rendered his party and the state services of the most valuable and enduring character. Respected and trusted by all who know him, Mr. Cox adds remarkable strength to the ticket which the voice of a united party has, even before the convention, decided on. The convention today will give formal ratification to the ticket, headed by Messrs. Willson and Cox. It will place all its nominees on a platform sure to command general and fervid public support. It will hand Kentucky her charter of deliverance from a long period of misgovernment, and title deed to an era, continuous and glorious, of progress and enrichment.

Ex-Gov. W. O. Bradley, who was permanent Chairman of the Louisville convention, spoke as follows:

"Boys, we have them on the run. If you are only true to yourselves, your party and your country, there can be no doubt of the result. Above all, we must have harmony. No delegate should fail to support the most available man because he may think he will not assist in continuing him in office; nor because he may think he will not endorse him for an office; and, least of all, because he has not endorsed him, but has endorsed another for an office. Men are of small importance; principles are vital. Men live but a day; principles are eternal."

"The wonderful administration of President Roosevelt, the universal prosperity that prevails throughout the country, the immense volume of our commerce at home and abroad, the almost innumerable army of contented workmen that throng our shops and factories, the host of prosperous farmers and laborers, peace at home and abroad—all these shall speak in trumpet tones in our behalf."

"We are confronted in Kentucky by what is called a 'Democratic ticket'—a ticket without a platform; a ticket that is up in the air. One that does not even have the support of the bangle gardens of Babylon. Each candidate is a platform within himself."

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies, but without avail and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken in a year."

Danderine

GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large amount to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name

MISS J. CARROLL
2807 Irving Ave., Chicago

By return mail to anyone who sends this advertisement in dress and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

"YOUR PERSONAL CHARMS"

A lady's taste is judged as much by the perfume she uses as by the dress she wears. It emphasizes her personality-if fine. The lady who adopts any of our Perfumes secures an additional "personal charm," because it's the unusual that attracts, whether in dress, carriage or "her atmosphere." We are in a position to show a line of perfumes unsurpassed by none, as we carry the leading odors of the foremost perfumers, such as Colgate, Wright, Palmer, Hildnut, Freeman, Ricksacker, Heger and others. See our window display. Come in and we will perfume your handkerchief.

RICHES

Enormous Wealth Made Down South in Land of Cotton

According to the bureau of the census the American cotton crops of the last five fiscal years were of value as follows (including the seed):

1902	$ 501,897,135
1903	660,549,230
1904	652,031,636
1905	632,298,332
1906	721,647,237

Total, 5 years.....$3,168,423,570

The cotton seed alone averaged $32,000,000 a year in value, or in the aggregate $412,000,000 for the five years, leaving $2,756,000,000 as the aggregate value of the five years crops of cotton alone.

Texas leads in cotton production with last year's crop amounting to $280,000,000 worth.

MEN ADMIRE

a pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired. Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified indorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Miss Emma Runtzler, of 631 State St., Schenectady, N. Y., writes: "For a long time I was troubled with a weakness which seemed to drain all my strength away. I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

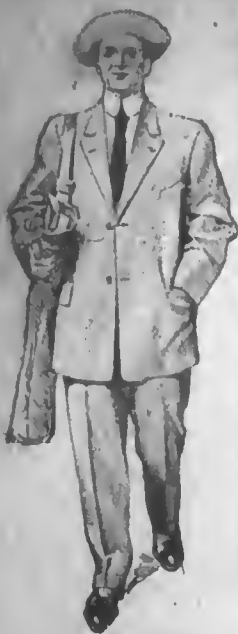

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all forms of Female Complaints, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and is invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

"SNAKES"

Was the Cry Which Started The Ledger Printery Yesterday Afternoon

Whenever there's anything good or startling in the old city, J. Barbour Russell always kindly rushes or sends it across the street and "divides" with us and gives THE PUBLIC LEADER a square deal.

Yesterday afternoon when the force was humping itself on tomorrow's LEDGER, in walks a big colored man carrying in his hand by the tail, an immense snake of the "cow-sucker" variety, as the colored man called it. He said as he held up the still wriggling monster:

"Here's a little present Mr. Barbour Russell sent THE LEDGER, with his compliments."

Of course, the Editor was "de-lighted" to receive such a token of friendly appreciation, but was forced to decline it, with thanks, because Mr. Russell didn't accompany his gift with a quart of his best Nagra snake medicine.

The sudden appearance of the still wriggling reptile almost caused a panic among the type-stickers, but Formen Jack Orr and Charley Dieterich, bravely came to the rescue and quoted the uprising by making Mr. Colored-man skidoo with his snakebip.

The snake measured 5 feet 3 inches and was killed in the yard of the residence of Mr. Bowman on East Fourth street about 1:15 yesterday afternoon.

This is a sign that summer is here.

NEARLY DROWNED

Little Son of Boyd K. Muse Escapes Fatal Accident

Late last afternoon Lane, the one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd K. Muse of West Third street, came near drowning at their home.

The little fellow had tumbled head foremost into a tub of water, and only the watchful eye of Mrs. Muse saved her little boy from drowning.

Unable to aid himself, Mrs. Muse, by mere chance, happened to see the child's plight, and going to his rescue she found her boy almost beyond resuscitation.

The little fellow was finally brought around all right.

OVERTAXED

Hundreds of Maysville Readers Know What It Means

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, headache, dizziness, Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Maysville citizen tells here a certain cure. Mrs. Lizzie Burns, living on the Blue Run Turnpike, West End, Maysville, Ky., says:

"My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills which I expressed through our newspapers in the spring of 1900 has not altered. I value this preparation more highly today than I did when I gave my first testimonial. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills I was troubled with severe spells of backache and kidney complaint which came on every few months, and there were times when I was confined to my bed and rendered almost helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have noticed slight returns of backache since, but an appeal to Doan's Kidney Pills never failed to quickly and positively check the trouble. In every case I know among my friends when Doan's Kidney Pills have been used the results have always been satisfactory.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box; Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
